RICHART'S Shoe House.

NO 13 EAST SECOND STREET, SEYMOUR, INDIANA.

Anne's hands flew to her breast, and she shrank back as Jarrat advanced upon her.

"You ruffian!" raged Colonel Tillotson, beside himself with anger. "An you or your bloody-backs lay finger on my niece!"

"Heroes are misplaced, colonel," answered Jarrat curtly. "Will you give up that paper, mistress?"

A quick light came to the girl's eyes, gazing past him. Fumbling in her dress, she drew forth the packet and held it out. But as he extended an arm to seize it she drew back and hurried it over his head through the dining room door, where huddled Mammy Evaline and the rest of the kitchen servants in a shivering group.

"Bonella!" she screamed. "Take it, Bonella! Run! Hide it! Run!" The redemptioner woman swooped upon the packet and was away like a hare.

"Clumsy fools!" foamed Jarrat at the soldiers bungled at the door catch. "After her and bring her here!"

Anne in the reaction felt her gaze upon Armand, erect between the soldiers, swim with tears. How could he stand so calm? And with the thought she felt a sudden shame for her weakness.

"The wench has had her run," grumbled one of the soldiers as they returned with the redemptioner woman. "She hasn't it on her. She's tucked it away somewhere."

"I'll soon know where she's hidden it," stormed Jarrat. He interrogated her savagely. "No," she said brokenly. "I not tell."

"Get a rawhide from the stables and stretch her out there. She'll talk fast enough!"

"You'll not lash her?" cried Anne, with trembling lips.

Jarrat made no reply. When the soldier returned with the rawhide others dragged the woman into the center and stood waiting. The poor creature watched the preparations with her face ashen and her black eyes darting rapidly here and there.

"Now," said Jarrat menacingly, "will you show where you hid that paper?" She was dumb.

Once, twice, the heavy thong descended. At the first stroke she cowered and cried out with pain. At the second a line of red started through the coarse osabrig.

Jarrat leaned and looked into her face. "I not tell you!" she wavered.

"I'll have the king's law on you for this," the colonel hurried between his teeth.

Armand had remained quiet, but as the stroke fell twice again he trembled. The woman's lips were tight together.

"No, no, no!" she said between them. "I not tell you! I not tell you—never!"

"Curse her!" Jarrat snarled furiously. "Lay on, there, you! I say I'll have it out of her!"

The wielder of the rawhide paused to tuck up his sleeve. The men who held her relaxed their hold for an instant, and she sank down on the floor with closed eyes.

"They will kill her!" sobbed Anne, clutching her uncle's arm. "They will kill her!"

"Stand her up again!" commanded Jarrat.

Armand had grown very white. At Anne's sob he strained forward in the grasp of the soldiers and cried: "Tell him! I command you to tell him!"

The woman opened her eyes, looked at him searchingly and uncertainly, then smiled and tried to shake her head. "I not—tell."

They dragged her roughly up again, but her legs would not support her. She seemed not to hear Jarrat's shout of question in her ear. He looked at her.

Anne had rushed instantly to the window and drawn the blind. "Troopers!" she cried. "The house is being surrounded! You have been pursued, Louis!"

"'Twas true then!" frothed Colonel Tillotson. "Jarrat, had I a weapon I would shoot you. I swear to God! There is one way, Patrick. Here, quick! Through this hall and to the buttery! There is a small window! Speed, and God send you get safe away!"

As Henry disappeared Jarrat ran from the door, shouting directions to the soldiery.

"Louis!" gasped Anne. "You must go! Take the same way, quick!"

"Wait!" he said. "I must give something into your care—something important! Promise me you will do with it what I ask!"

"Yes, yes; but haste, haste!"

He had taken a packet from his breast. "This, much depends upon it. It must be carried to Philadelphia and there given to Dr. Benjamin Franklin. You must tell him to hold it till called for."

"I will carry it. He shall have it from my own hands. I hear them on the porch. For my own sake go!"

"Swear to me!"

"I swear by all I love—by my love for you."

"And you will trust me?"

"Always, always! Oh, can you wait while they take you?"

"Kiss me!"

"Ah—"

He strained her to him once and sprang toward the door through which Henry had fled. But as he reached it Jarrat's form stood framed in the sash. His hand held a pistol. At the same moment the room overflowed with men.

"So ho," he smiled redly over white teeth. "Not so sprightly, eh? Well, the other bird has flown—curse those horses' pounding!—and we must be content with you, I suppose. Lieutenant, I put this conger eel in your care. An he gets off as did Patrick Henry, some one shall suffer for it. Nay, mistress, run not to him. Rather give me the packet which the entertaining gentleman gave into your care a moment since. I doubt not its contents will interest us all. It may even hold his patent of nobility."

TOOK ANOTHER ROAD

When Russian Troops Met Those of The Enemy the Former Sidestepped and Run Away From Foe.

Viceroy Alexieff Reports That Costly Dock Works at Dalny Have Been Blown Up.

St. Petersburg, May 13.—The ministry of war has received the following dispatch from General Pfitz: "According to information received from Feng Wang Cheng, one of the guards divisions advanced along the Hai Cheng road and about a division and 1,500 cavalry were to advance by the Feng Wang Cheng road to Samatra. Up to the present time there has been discovered at Kwan Tien Shen advance guards consisting of a battalion of infantry and three squadrons of cavalry with a mountain battery."

"According to reports received the Japanese troops who were in the neighborhood of Feng Wang Cheng, were disposed in two sections, the first a day's march to the southwest of the Feng Wang Cheng and the second on the lower course of the Tayang river. The latter commenced to cross on the same day."

"There is no precise information yet to hand regarding the enemy's forces which have landed at Pitsewo."

Another telegram received by the general staff from General Karkwitich says: "Some sixty Japanese transports and warships appeared at sea between Pitsewo and Cape Treminal. Detachments of sharpshooters were sent to reconnoiter and a small detachment of infantry was sent from Polandon. The troops sent to reconnoiter announced that the Japanese were landing near Cape Siao Kuhseitsa, in Kinchau bay, near the south of the Tchong Yu river and were posting a division of 10,000 men in the neighboring villages. The Russian population was withdrawn from Pitsewo. Having fulfilled its task our small detachment retired, but met en route a superior force of the enemy and took another road. The detachment was pursued by the Japanese for a distance of six miles, and our casualties were one sharpshooter wounded and three horses killed."

Viceroy Alexieff has telegraphed to the czar announcing that the Russians have blown up the docks and piers at Port Dalny, Liao Tung peninsula, presumably to render more difficult a Japanese landing at that point. Later telegrams indicate that the whole of Port Dalny has been destroyed by the Russians.

HADN'T HEARD OF IT

Rumors of Battle at Wu Feng Tien Not Credited by Neighbors.

Shan Hai Kwan, May 13.—A report that there has been fighting at Wu Feng Tien is discredited here. It is reported that there is only a small Japanese force in that vicinity. The main force of the Japanese is said to be concentrated near Port Arthur with siege guns, and their intention is believed to be to attempt a repetition of the strategy of the naval and military forces of the United States before Santiago and to drive the Russian fleet out to battle. There is no news here of the whereabouts of the first Japanese army corps.

Three hundred and fifty Russian soldiers are at New Chwang and that city is quiet. Most of the white women who resided at New Chwang have gone to Tien Tsin, but the white men remain there.

The censorship at New Chwang is severe. United States Consul Miller has not been allowed to answer Minister Conger's request for a statement as to the local situation.

Didn't Like to Fight Japs.

Tokio, May 13.—According to an official report the Russian casualties in the fighting at Anju on May 10 amounted to over fifty men. One officer and twelve men were killed, the others wounded. The Russians engaged numbered 700 and were from the Fifteenth Cossack regiment. They reached Liao Yang by train and marched thence to Anju. "A majority of the enemy disliked fighting the Japanese," the official report says, "and their morals is low."

Evidence of Something Doing.

Seoul, May 13.—A junk that has arrived at Chemulpo brings a report that heavy explosions were heard at sea early this morning. It is believed here that these explosions occurred either at Port Arthur or Dalny.

Balloon Causes Serious Fire.

Paris, May 13.—A balloon belonging to the well-known aeronaut, Captain Surcouf, came down in the Place d'Amnensil, and the wind drove it into the narrow entrance of a street. A moment later it came in contact with the side of a house. A flame issued from the envelope and then a violent explosion followed, the sheets of flame from which penetrated the open windows of the building. Eight occupants of the house were burned or otherwise injured, two dangerously. The aeronaut was not hurt.

AFRICA'S NEEDS

Bishop Hartzel Makes a Plea for Missionary Endeavor.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 13.—Business moves very slowly in the Methodist general conference and the events of the session are generally dull and uninteresting to the crowds that fill the galleries and at times fail to hold the attention of the delegates. The delegates, however, did sit up and take BISHOP JOSEPH C. HARTZEL, notice with a fine degree of unanimity when Rev. Joseph C. Hartzel, missionary bishop to Africa, read his report to the conference. It was full of interesting details of his work in the dark continent, and he made a strong appeal for additional funds to further prosecute his labors in the Christianizing of the natives. Statistics of the church in Africa showed a membership of 5,000. There are 115 schools, says Bishop Hartzel, with 650 teachers and 5,000 scholars. The total value of the Methodist church's property in Africa is $320,000, an increase of $150,000 in the last quadrennium.

SENSATIONAL AFFRAY

Two Preachers Came Together With Firearms.

Texarkana, Tex., May 13.—There was a sensational shooting affray on the eastbound Texas & Pacific train coming into Texarkana, between Revs. J. B. Cranfill and S. L. Hayden. Cranfill fired two shots from a magazine pistol at Rev. Hayden while the latter was struggling for possession of the weapon. Neither shot took effect. The encounter occurred in the lavatory of the sleeper on which both men were en route to the Southern Baptist convention at Nashville, Tenn. The Rev. Cranfill was arrested on his arrival here and arraigned before Justice Henry on a charge of assault to murder. He waived examination and was released on $1,000 bond. The encounter, it is alleged, grew out of past differences, legal and personal, between the two principals. Hayden was accompanied by his wife and daughter and Cranfill by a party of friends.

Desperate Battle With Thieves. Racine, Wis., May 13.—Thomas Burns, deputy sheriff of Racine county, battled with six desperate Chicago thieves two miles south of Corliss, on the line of the Milwaukee road. They were robbing a freight car and had piled up $3,000 worth of silks, bolts of cloth, boots and shoes and other goods when discovered. The gang scattered in various directions. One of them was captured, brought to this city and lodged in jail. He gave his name as George Mason, and made a confession, telling who his partners were, and that thousands of dollars worth goods had been stolen in the past few months.

A Kansas Boom for Miles.

Topeka, Kan., May 13.—David Overmeyer, one of the delegates-at-large to the Democratic national convention, announces that he will make every effort to have the Kansas delegation support General Miles for the Democratic nomination for president. Kansas Democrats have chosen an unimpaired delegation, but Hearst claims half of the number. Overmeyer has been looked upon as a Hearst man.

Olden Crimes Recalled.

Neenah, Wis., May 13.—Six skeletons were unearthed in the western part of the city by workmen who were digging a sand pit. The skeletons are believed to be the remains of persons who were murdered at a road-house which was located there in the early days of Wisconsin.

Railway Engineer Killed.

Jackson, Tenn., May 13.—A south-bound train on the Illinois central was wrecked one mile north of Middleburg. The engine was turned over and Engineer Hadway, of Watervalley, Miss., was killed.

HEARTLESS CRIME

A STRANGE MYSTERY

Little Josephine McCahill, Had Been Missing From Her Home For Nearly Two Weeks.

Was Last Seen In Company With a Strange Man and Was Crying.

New York, May 13.—Wrapped in rags in a chimney at her home in Third avenue, the body of six-year-old Josephine McCahill, who has been missing since May 2, was found last night. The body was lodged near the top of the chimney, and it was necessary to tear away part of the masonry to release it. It is thought that the body, which was terribly cut up and mutilated, was placed there within a day or two. The McCahill case has attracted much attention, the belief being that the child was kidnapped. Rewards aggregating $3,850 were offered by various persons for her recovery, and mass meetings were held to consider plans for conducting the search. Yesterday a letter was received by Mrs. McCahill, the child's mother, which read:

"Dear Friend—As you made such a fuss, I was compelled to kill Josie. If you give $500 to a boy I will send, you can have the body." H. M.

"P. S.—Don't mind stories you hear."

The police considered this letter as the work of some heartless meddler. After leaving her home on May 2 to play in the street, the child was seen in Third avenue with a man, described as tall and dark. She had a bag of candy in her hand, but was crying. That is all the police have had to work on. Their search has proceeded on the belief that the man was an Italian and that the girl would eventually be found in one of the Italian colonies in this or some nearby city.

INDISCRIMINATE BUTCHERY

Colony on North Borneo Railroad Wiped Out by Natives.

Victoria, B. C., May 13.—Missionaries, passengers on the liner Empress of India, bring advices of a massacre at a little colony on the west coast of British North Borneo at Kawang railway station, midway between Jesselton and Papar, on March 31. A band of rebels from the interior are credited with killed 130 men, women and children, most of them Chinese coolies, but a few English, wounding many others and burning the houses and huts.

The rebels swept down upon the colony at 10 o'clock at night. The band divided into two parts, one of a hundred concealing themselves in a reserve on top of a hill, while the others rushed upon the settlement. The wife and children of the stationmaster and the English railway driver and his wife were among those killed. The rebels first attacked the inmates of the Chinese shops, the carnage finally becoming general, and the men, women and children being butchered in discriminately. After burning the village the rebels departed, leaving many of the victims cruelly wounded, helpless amid the ruins of their homes. The survivors, one native fireman, the stationmaster, whose wife and child were killed, and a few of the wounded coolies, escaped to Jesselton, from where the news was spread.

Mrs. Powell's Husband Arrested.

Dover, Del., May 13.—Alfred M. Powell, husband of Mary E. Powell, who was sentenced to imprisonment for life for the murder of Estelle Albin, their foster daughter, has been arrested on the charge of immoral conduct with Georgiana Ford, a thirteen-year-old girl employed on the Powell farm. The girl was an important witness at the trial of Mrs. Powell. The maximum penalty for the charge against Powell is seven years' imprisonment and $1,000 fine. Powell declares he is innocent. The prosecution in the murder trial charged Mrs. Powell with having committed the crime through jealousy owing to Powell's misconduct with Miss Albin.

Credentials Cause Delay.

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—The first day's session of the Republican state convention ended at 3:25 last night without getting beyond temporary organization, and an adjournment was forced until 10 o'clock this morning, pending the report of the credentials committee. The resolutions adopted by the district caucus endorsing Senator Fairbanks of Indiana for vice president, were presented, but were subsequently withdrawn, it being stated that Congressman Hitt would accept the nomination if tendered him. This was taken to foreshadow instructions for Hitt by the convention.

Vacation for Taft.

Washington, May 13.—Secretary Taft has left here for a vacation of ten days in the Adirondack mountains.

TEARFUL OR CHEERFUL?

Whether a woman is tearful or cheerful depends not on what she has materially, but what she is physically. Many an indulgent husband is driven almost to despair by the tearful outburst of a wife who has "everything she wants."

He wants to know what's the matter. But the wife can't tell. She only knows that she is depressed and despondent.

Such a condition is usually related to some form of womanly disease. The mental depression has its corresponding womanly weakness.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription changes tearful women to cheerful women by curing the diseases which cause physical weakness and depression of spirits. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Mrs. Alice Adams, of Laboratory, Washington, D. C., says: "With many thanks I write to let you know how I am. I can say by God's help and your help I am well. I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I can do all my work. I can't praise your medicine too highly. I will recommend your medicine as long as I live. If any one doubts this give them my address."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Keep the bowels healthy by the timely use of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

THE Jackson county delegation at the democratic convention had one Hearst vote on all the contested questions and eighteen for the Parker slate.

Not only the old soldiers but all patriotic citizens should take an interest in the observance of Memorial Day. The old soldiers always do their part.

THE Seymour Woodmen will begin at once to lay plans for the state log-rolling which will be held here next year. They propose to show the wood-choppers from over the state what a real live city can do when it comes to providing entertainment.

"A SON of the Soil" fully describes J. Frank Hanly. When a young man he ditched by day and studied by night. Since becoming a man, prominent among his fellows, he has not forgotten his struggles and humble origin, nor has he forgotten to sympathize with those who toil.—Noblesville Ledger.

THE Hearst crowd talked against instructions for Parker and Tom Taggart's bossism but it did no good. The instructions were adopted by a vote of nearly two to one. There were some bitter speeches made and it will be a long time before the sore spots heal. But Taggart had his way and he is still the boss.

IN HIS arrangement of the standing committees of the city council Mayor Shields gives the chairmanship of nine committees to the five democratic councilmen and is himself the chairman of the police board. To the republicans he gives no chairmanships. He puts each one of the democrats on four committees. He puts each one of the republican councilmen on two committees only. In his anxiety to show his partisanship he runs the risk of "overworking" the five democrats in the council if they do their duty. How sad it would be if some of these democratic councilmen would break down and lose their health and have to take a vacation because of overwork in office.

THE reorganizers may theorize as they will about it, but it still remains true that the democratic convention held in Chicago in 1896 was made up of delegates regularly selected according to democratic rules governing the primaries, and when they assembled no one presumed to question the fact that it was a democratic convention regularly constituted. The action taken at this convention was a direct and emphatic response to the failure of the democratic administration under which unspeakable distress had come to the country. If action taken by men chosen in a regular way as representatives of the party from all sections of the country does not constitute regular democratic proceedings, what does? And if the reorganizers were justified in bolting, why should any democrat that sees fit to rebel against the reorganizers incur the abuse of this faction now?

It is said that Hearst put a lot of money in circulation in Indiana, but he probably overlooked some of the bosses in the distribution or he would have fared better in the outcome.

WHAT will the Hearst and Bryan people of Indiana do now since they were so unmercifully run over by the Parker crowd? Will they accept the situation and confess that they are whipped for all time.

The Gillespie Trial.

The Gillespie trial now in progress at Rising Sun is attracting wide attention. Several members of the family are being tried for the murder of Miss Elizabeth Gillespie last December. Her twin brother, James Gillespie, is the alleged murderer and the others are charged with being parties to the crime. The prosecution will endeavor to prove a conspiracy, the result of a family feud. The Rising Sun people are resting from labor and attending the trial. Several noted lawyers have been employed on each side of the case.

NEW COUNCIL INSTALLED.

Seven New Men Have Seats in the Semi-Circle.

There was a shift in the council chamber last night when the new men took their places around the semi-circular table. Only three councilmen succeeded themselves—Huber, H. P. Miller and Gibson. The new men are D. B. Robertson, August Cordes, J. S. Mills, J. R. Buhner, J. W. Morton, H. A. Love and Frank Brethauer.

All the members of the old council but Leroy Miller and Heuser were present to see their successors safely in their seats. But it was only a matter of courtesy that the old members were there as they were no longer councilmen and can draw no pay legally for their presence last night as all those who were elected May 3 had been duly qualified soon after the election. Not much business was introduced at this first session of the new council.

Mayor Shields called order at 7:40 and stated that according to the custom of the past the members of the old council would assemble and hear the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and approve same and this was done.

The minutes of a special meeting that was called for May 2 to elect an election inspector to take the place of John Humes who declined to serve were also read. Will Kaufman was elected in Mr. Humes' place at this meeting.

After this the old council adjourned on motion of Ahlbrand and the newly elected members took their respective places. The clerk reported that all had filed their certificates of election. The mayor then asked if there were any special committees to report.

Huber reported that there was a special committee on the matter of improving the fire department but that there was no report further than already made.

The mayor stated that there was a special library committee of which he was chairman and he made the following report all of which had been previously reported and made a matter of record:

That the committee had given contract for plans and specifications to Harris & Shopbell, of Evansville, for $200; the general contract for the building to The Travis Carter Company for $7,350; the heating and plumbing contract to the Seymour Heating and Plumbing Co. for $494. The committee had received for old building $250; for the woodshed etc., $30; for fence $3 00.

After the report was read Gibson asked if August Cordes was not a part of the Seymour Heating and Plumbing Company to which Mr. Cordes replied that he was. A motion was then made to record the report made by Dr. Shields together with the statement of Mr. Cordes. Councilman Miller asked to have included in the record that not a dollar of the city's money was being used in the construction of the library, as all of the money was being furnished by Andrew Carnegie. The motion was made and carried.

The mayor was instructed to fill the vacant places on the library committee which he said he would do and announce later.

APT ILLUSTRATION.

How the W. F. Peter Drug Co. Showed the Difference to a Republican man.

A Republican man was talking with Mr. Peter of the W. F. Peter Drug Co. lately, discussing a very interesting subject, when Mr. Peter said:

"See here, I'll show you now just what I mean."

He went out and soon returned with a bit of board and two bottles. Resting one end of the board on the counter, he supported the other end with his finger, and poured on the board from one of the bottle a drop of thick, oily substance, which slowly oozed down the slope. Then Mr. Peter took the other bottle and poured out just a drop of a clear, delicious, dark red liquid. This drop shot down the incline in the twinkling of an eye.

"This first bottle," said Mr. Peter "is the old-fashioned cod liver oil, or emulsion, as it is called. The second bottle contains Vinol. See how slowly the emulsion creeps along the board. It is thick, sluggish, unwholesome. But the Vinol dashes to the bottom at once. These two substances act like this in the human body—the cod liver oil is so thick and clogging that it merely appeas digestion, and its medicinal value is lost, while Vinol goes at once to the seat of trouble and corrects the difficulty by creating an appetite and building up the strength and general health.

"Vinol, you know, is a cod liver oil preparation, and, while it contains all the medicinal elements which have made cod liver oil famous, it contains not a drop of oil, and is delicious to the taste. We cannot guarantee old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsion, but Vinol is guaranteed to the limit, and if it fails to give satisfaction it costs nothing. We stand the loss. But it won't fail. Try it on our guarantee and see." W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

(Graduation essay of Miss Inez Bedel, of Vernon township, who died May 6, just an hour before the time set for the commencement.)

The world's fair which is now being held at St. Louis, in commemoration of the purchase of Louisiana from France in 1803, promises to eclipse all previous international expositions.

The management of this fair is in the hands of the Exposition Company, which has had at its disposal about $20,000,000 appropriated for the exposition. The company gave $5,000,000, St. Louis voted $5,000,000 of bonds and the government appropriated $5,000,000. Besides this Missouri gave $1,000,000 and the government and other states gave large amounts for the exhibit of their resources. Later the United States loaned them $4,000,000 more.

It is most fitting that the centennial anniversary of this purchase should be celebrated in some grand manner. The addition of the territory made it possible for us to extend our boundary to the ocean and gave to us the great water-way of the Mississippi river with its innumerable tributaries. The thirteen states and two territories since carved out of this section contain over 17,000,000 people and furnish the principal grazing and mineral resources of our country.

There are about twelve hundred acres of land embraced in the exposition grounds. The principal structures of the fair, including the Government building and the buildings erected by foreign nations and our states, are located in Forest Reserve Park. Entering the grounds at the northeast corner there is a grand public walk extending diagonally and by gradual ascension to a rounded elevation near the center of the grounds, on which is a building known as the Temple of Arts. In front of this is a structure which overlooks the entire grounds. Then in front of this structure is a cascade of clear water gushing forth, which is over 300 feet in width and extends downward over natural and artificial falls to a grand lake which forms the central feature of the walk. On either side of this lake are buildings of art, and merchandise and manufacturers' exhibits. The buildings of foreign governments and the states lie to the westward and are located at picturesque points on a winding roadway laid out among hills and trees and circling through the entire grounds.

No exhibition can afford to be simply a reproduction of those gone before, but must have some characteristic of its own. One distinction of the St. Louis fair is the air-ship, every fair has had its balloon, but here for the first time fleets of soaring yachts beat the air with wings. Another distinction is, instead of just having the finished products, the processes by which they are created is emphasized. The visitor can follow any article from the raw material to the product ready for use. Another important feature is the electric railway with cars constantly running to all the main points in the grounds, especially to the principal entrance of every important building. This road is constructed through tunnels so as not to be in the way of people visiting the exposition. St. Louis has one of the best electric systems in the world, and every line has been extended to the main entrance of the grounds, so that people can step on a car at any point in the city or at the door of any hotel and be transported in thirty minutes to the grounds. An interesting feature in the construction of the buildings is that all the nails were driven by compressed air. Work on this large scale seems to have been necessary when we realize that the buildings cover over two hundred acres of land. The buildings at Chicago were so enormous that people thought the record would never be touched again, and the great French Exposition of 1900 was content with much smaller quarters. But at St. Louis the buildings cover nearly twice as much space as those at Chicago.

The purpose of this fair is to present an object-lesson to all the world of our marvelous growth in resources and manufactures. It is also intended to assemble at St. Louis the people and products of our possessions beyond the seas. The natives of Porto Rico and the Philippines will show to this country their characteristics and the possibilities of their further civilization. And above all things this exposition should be the object-lesson of what a free people can accomplish under a republican form of government. With the glory of our recent achievements, our power recognized by every nation and our marvelous capacity for invention and manufacture—this is the time for the exhibition of our great wealth.

CHRONIC SORES

Signs of Polluted Blood.

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the merest scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at fault, and, while antiseptic washes, salves, soaps and powders can do much to keep down the inflammation and cleanse the sore, it will never heal permanently till the blood itself has been purified and the deadly germs and poisons destroyed, and with S. S. S. this can be accomplished—the polluted blood is purified and invigorated, and when rich, pure blood is again circulating freely throughout the body the flesh around the old sore begins to take on a natural color, the discharge of matter ceases and the place heals over.

S. S. S. is both a blood purifier and tonic that puts your blood in order and at the same time tones up the system and builds up the general health. If you have a chronic sore write us. No charge for medical advice.

TESTIMONIAL.

MESSRS. WATSON & CO., Indianapolis, Ind., Agents. March 1, 1904. Dear Sirs:—Replying to your query as to whether I am pleased with the F. P. lighting system which you installed for me fifteen months ago, I will say that it has never given me one minute's trouble nor one dollar's expense. It gives the best light I ever saw for interior use. The actinic rays are of such a character as to make it very desirable when the perfectly natural colors of objects are to be distinguished without confusion.

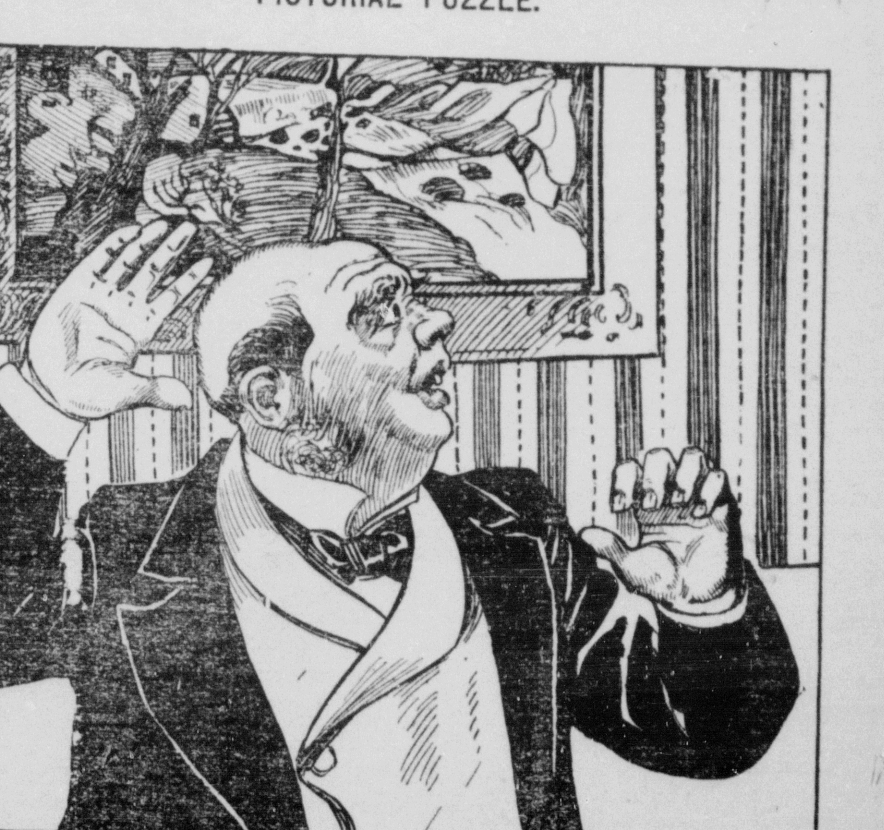

As to cost of maintenance, I think my experience, based upon close observation, will warrant the statement that it is under $50 per annum, and our store is open every day in the year until 11 o'clock p. m., except on Sunday, one hour less. Under the same condition, and with the most approved facilities for the distribution of light, our bills for illuminating gas were about $200 per year, and for electric light (arcs) about $400 to $420 per annum, and at no time have we had more than one-half the light we now have.

I am particularly pleased with the light, and the fact that it is so economical makes it the more desirable.

As you can readily figure, I paid for my apparatus and cost of light in about four or five months. Yours truly, R. L. EADS.

Thanks.

In behalf of the delegation from Seymour Camp No. 3261, M. W. A., I desire to thank Dr. Shields, Mayor, and Dr. Graessle, Mayor elect, for the assistance given the delegation in its successful effort to secure the State Log-Rolling, 1905, for Seymour.

I desire also to thank the Hon. Charles F. Remy, reporter of the Supreme court, for his efforts in our behalf. Seymour has no better friend than Neighbor Remy, and all our citizens owe him a debt of gratitude for his many acts of kindness.

Thanks too, to the press of our city. The work was well done.

Respectfully,
A. N. MENDEN,
Ch. of Delegation.

The Marion camp drill team, of Indianapolis, under the leadership of Capt. Fox, who has drilled the old Indianapolis light artillery, the Richmond Zouaves and a number of other crack companies, won first honors in the competition drill today and with first place goes a prize of $100.

The Seymour drill team, which has captured several honors in this and neighboring states, took second prize and won $50. The Shelbyville team finished third winning $25. There was but little difference between the work of the Indianapolis and Seymour teams but the Shelbyville team was hopelessly outclassed. —Columbus Republican.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Fireman Hugo Sefker has been transferred from the east to the west division.

When the new time card takes effect on the B. & O. S.W. Sunday all trains east and west bound, will pass at the B. & O. S.W. shops in pairs and this will give Washington trains from each direction at the same time.

That the ministers of Jeffersonville are no spectators of persons was shown last Saturday when they "got busy" and showed that there would be "something doing" if the female baseball club crossed bats with a Jeffersonville team Sunday. The ministers made it so warm that notice was served by Sheriff Pernett, which put a stop to the proceedings.

Not A Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Blitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c, at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Game Warden Newhouse, of Indianapolis, and Clark, of Dana, Ind., who have been in this vicinity for over a week, looking up violations of the fish, game and bird laws, made their first haul this morning, when they brought William T. Both men gave bond and were bound over to Circuit court. —Bedford Mail.
